

MEDIA ADVISORY: Brockville Museum's Heritage Skills Workshop starts September 26.

Prepared Monday, August 27, 2017/3:00 p.m. (for immediate release)

Join the Brockville Museum for this year's Heritage Skills Workshops! These workshops are hands-on learning experiences that allow participants to explore largely forgotten skills and techniques in an informal setting, with museum educator Peggy Hause.

This year's theme will be Pioneer Skills. These workshops will explore various pioneer skills that were once common place but that have now virtually disappeared in our modern world, and include "Natural Pharmacy", "Preserving for the Winter", and "Corn Husk Art".

These workshops will run the last Wednesday of the month, September thru November from 1 – 3 p.m. Purchase the entire series of three for only $36 per person or $15 per person for single programs. The cost includes all supplies and participants will be able to take home the results of their class. Advance registration is required. Please contact Peggy Hause at phause@brockville.com or (613) 342 4397 x 6225 to register.

For more information about this and other happenings at the Brockville Museum, find us on Facebook or visit our webpage www.brockvillemuseum.com. Be sure to follow the museum Facebook Page to learn more about each topic in the weeks leading up to each workshop.